DA'S HOSPITAL STAY CONTINUES

Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison is expected to remain hospitalized another week, undergoing treatment for an infection of his back.

The DA said he will be back at work after his release from Hotel Dieu, where he was admitted a week ago. Garrison is being treated for a back infection at the site of an operation he underwent in 1969 to remove a disc.

"I feel pretty good," Garrison said. "They tell me I'll be back on my feet pretty soon."

Garrison's physician said the DA required "bed rest and antibiotics" to clear up the infection.

"There is no surgery involved," the physician said. "It is simply a matter of taking care of the infection that developed exactly at the spot where the disc was removed."
